

The American Studies Center, University of Warsaw is pleased to announce a guest lecture by

Sheila Lalwani

"The Challenges of Reporting on Islam and Muslims in a Global World: What is the Way Forward? "

24.04.2010 (Saturday) at 4:15 p.m.

A.S.C. Al. Niepodległości 22, Warsaw

Sheila Lalwani began her reporting career when she was 15 and has worked for several journalism organizations including the Associated Press, Seattle Times and Milwaukee Journal Sentinel. She recently graduated from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University, where she served as Managing Editor of the Kennedy School Review. She led groups of journalists interested in religion reporting and served as the Midwest Captain for the Religion Newswriters Association. She is currently living in Germany as a Fulbright Fellow and teaching journalism at the University of Leipzig. She speaks Arabic, German, Hindi and French.